

Say it through the bag!

Couriously, as she opens the small, colourful bag, she hears the voice from her love,
"Hey Gabi, will you marry me?"
And then she discovers the ring...

GagBag, the sound bag, is not only a very inventive place for a gift; there are also very personal messages inside. Whether for Gabi, Heidi, Bastian or whomever, from there its easy to record your message as well as continuously change it. The mini-microphone and chip makes it possible.

The Re-recordable Bag is the newest GagBag from the think tank of Gregor Leinweber, Sebastian Schmidt-Troschke, and Christoph Ossenkopp out of the Ruhrgebiet area of Germany. One of the 35, which will always find the right words.

What's within the bag, leaves itself upon the imagination.
What noise comes out of the bag, fits to every occasion and situation.

To say "Thank You," "Merry Christmas," "Feel Better," or "Have a Great Vacation," out of the bag comes the roar of the sea, singing seagulls, an excited young woman's voice expressing her declaration of love, or provide a happy sound to bring cheer and good moods.

Just a short year after entering the market, GagBag has conquered the hearts of the world. It's now able to speak French, Belgian, Greek, Spanish, Dutch, Italian, Norwegian, English and Japanese.

"The hottest new gift item," titled the American gift magazine, "Giftware News," where GagBag appears on the front cover. The sound bag manages to jump over the big pond.

And Gabi?

"Yes, I will!" she says to the bag, as she lands a big kiss on the microphone and lays her rose inside the bag. She took the ring out beforehand....

GagBag- easy to fall in love with.

Further information is available at: www.gagbag.com

---

Press report, 1.390 characters, status: 03 November, 2006

For further information please contact Gregor Leinweber Tel: +49 (0) 209 - 16 58 86 10, gregor@gagbag.com